

ADR Net Corporate Members: Michelmores

Michelmores is a dynamic, full service practice with a growing ADR/mediation team. The team is headed up by partner Tim Richards, a commercial litigator with vast experience handling a range of commercial disputes including Shareholder and Contractual claims. Tim is very proactive in alternative dispute resolution and regularly gives lectures on mediation. He is a CEDR and ADR Group trained mediator and regularly conducts mediation for the ADR Group.

Michelmores is a 41-partner practice with a further 110 lawyers and a total complement of over 300 personnel. The Firm is acknowledged as one of the leading practices in South West England and has also invested strongly in its Central London office. The Firm has earned an increasing national and international reputation in its chosen specialisms.

Michelmores has created a great place to work which attracts, and retains, the very best lawyers. Many of the lawyers have joined Michelmores from leading City firms, attracted by the quality of work and quality of the working environment provided. We take a practical approach to providing a first-class service to a wide range of clients comprising major institutions, large companies, government departments and public bodies, corporate and private clients throughout the country.
